Rheumatic Pains

"I have suffered terribly with rheumatism. I took Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and they gave me great relief. I, have spells of terrible pains in my ribs, and in the small of my back, and the Anti-Pain Pills help me right away. I am now well of the rheumatism and think Anti-Pain Pills done me more good than all the other medicines. I first heard of them through the following circumstance that happened at our home two years ago. A friend, Mrs. Brown, of Orion, Mich., came to visit us. She had not been able to dress herself or comb her own hair for months. A friend of ours came in and seeing her suffering offered her some Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. She laughed at the idea of relief from such a source after doctoring for so long, but took one one of the tablets with the remark that it would at least do her no harm. She took another that evening, and the next morning she was so elated that she went to the druggist's and got a package and took them home with her. Recently she was here again, and told us that she continued taking the pills, and that one box cured her, and she has not had a symptom of rheumatism since."

Little Girl's Obstinate Case of Eczema - Instantaneous Relief By Cuticura - Little Boy's Hands and Arms Also Were a Mass of Torturing Sores - Grateful Mother Says:

"CUTICURA REMEDIES A HOUSEHOLD STANDBY"

'In reply to your letter I write you my experience, and you are privileged to use it as you see fit. Last year, after having my little girl treated by a very prominent physician for an obstinate case of eczema, I resorted to the Cuticura Remedies, and was so well pleased with the almost instantaneous relief afforded that we discarded the physician's prescription and relied entirely on the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills. When we commenced with the Cuticura Remedies her feet and limbs were covered with running sores. In about six weeks we had her completely well, and there has been no recurrence of the trouble. "In July of this year a little boy in our family poisoned his hands and arms with poison oak, and in twenty-four hours his hands and arms were a mass of torturing sores. We used only the Cuticura Remedies, washing his hands and arms with the Cuticura Soap, and anointed them with the Cuticura Pinder of Cuticura Remedies, washing his hands and arms healed up; so we have lots of cause for feeling grateful for the Cuticura Remedies are a valuable household standby, living as we do twelve miles from a doctor, and where it costs from twenty to twenty-five dollars to come up on the mountain. Respectfully, Mrs. Lizzie Vincent Thomas, Fairmount, Walden's Ridge, Tenn., Oct. 13, 1905."

URBANNA. VA. February 7.—The Urbanna Overall and Shirt Factory received the largest single order from Baltimore ever sent out of that city—twenty thousand dozen pairs of overalls.

This factory resumed business this year with the usual number of operators and is working successfully. The enterprise is an important factor in the business of the town. The young ladies operating are chiefly from the town and the country nearby.

The new steamer Dr. W. J. Newbill, which was built at this place for Captain H. C. Bayton, mail contractor for the route between this port and the Northern Neck, after being fitted with machinery in Baltimore, made a satisfactory trial instant, and arrived on the Rappahannock River at the time appointed. The Newbill is eighty-eight feet long and eighteen feet wide, of the screw type, is a good model for speed and is fitted with passenger saloon, cabin and freight dock. She will meet fully the demands of the route and the enterprise of her owner and master will be greatly appreciated. She will take the place of the little steamer, Owen Dillard, which has given steady service on the route.

This mall route, which connects Richmond, via West Point and Urbanna, directly with the lower countles of the Northern Neck, giving daily rapid service, was made about ten years ago by Captain Boyton.

The town of Uubanna is to vote on having a system of waterworks. The adoption of this improvement is the longest stride made in modernizing and developing the town.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., February 7. Councilman George Cameron, Jr., and R. B. The Board of Aldermen will also appoint a similar commit last evening's meeting for an extra appropriation of two thousand dollars to last evening's meeting for an extra appropriation of two thousand dollars to pay for the legal services of William B. McIlwaine and R. B. Davis in appearing before a committee of the Legislature in opposition to the Caton railroad tax bill was at first approved by an apparently unanimous vote, whileh was unrecorded, but later on in the meeting Messrs. Harris Donnan and F. G. Stratton asked permission to change their votes from aye to no, and James H. Gray stated that he had voted no, and wanted his vote thus recorded. The Caton bill's provision that the railroads in the State pay their taxes pro rata to the counties through which they pass, instead of to the city where the road's legal office is situated, would decrease Petersburg's tax receipts by about thirteen thousand dollars a year, as the Seaboard Air Line's principal office is in this city.

The Council has passed a resolution directing the city attorney, George Mason, to prepare a bill so amending the city's charter as to provide that all city officers not elected by popular vote shall serve for four years, and providing that policemen be selected by a commission. The resolution requests the city's State Sonator and delegates to secure the passage of the bill by the Legislature.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

HARRISONBURG, VA., Feb. 7.—A rearged and collision occurred on the Shenandosh Division of the Norfolk and Western early this morning, the cause of which was very unusual, and is said to be unprecedented in the history of the local railroads. One man was killed and three others more or less injured. The dead, Owen Henderson, of Shenandoah City, engineer, crushed under his engine. The injured, W. H. Downey of Elkton, engineer, injured by jumping from his enginer, injured and cut by flying glass. The Wreck occurred near Rippon, in Jefferson county, W. Va. A northbound freight train had stalled on the main track, and a flagman was sent back to sto poncoming trains. The flagman stumbled over an obstruction in the darkness; fell down the bank, and his lanterns were extinguished by the fall. He was stunned for a few moments, and before he could get up and re-light his lamps, a double-header, running with two engines and a caboose, thundered by at high speed.

Coming around a sharp curve of the road, Henderson, the engineer in charge of the first engine, saw the "markers" of the freight only a short distance ahead. He reversed his engine, and signalled for the engineman behind him to do the same. It was too late, and the double-header crashed into the rear-end of the freight, Henderson was hurled through the cab of his engine and rolled under the drivers. One wheel passed over him, and when the train stopped another was restling upon his body. He was horribly mangled. He died almost instantly, It was several hours before the wreckage was cleared away, and the mutilated body of the engineer taken out. Traffic was blocked for five hours. Henderson could have escaped by jumping after no had shu toff and reversed his engine, but he remained at his post, and
